

This listing of claims will replace all prior versions, and listings, of claims in the application:

Listing of Claims:

Claim 1 (currently amended): ~~What is claimed is:-~~

A device for use with a piano, organ, or musical keyboard, comprising:
~~a circuitry and detection devices device~~ to detect and communicate white key and black key movement;
~~a surface means of at least one of the white keys and black keys other than a visual surface of the key~~ operatively connected to said ~~circuitry and detection devices device~~ for detecting key movement.

Claim 2 (currently amended): The device of claim 1 wherein said surface ~~means~~ comprises a plurality of flexible inserts ~~disposed only at a back of the key~~, each of said inserts positionable between a key of the keyboard and [[a]] ~~said~~ detection device, said insert changing position in relation to movement of the ~~said~~ key.

Claim 3 (currently amended): The device of claim 2 wherein said flexible insert comprises [[a]] ~~at least one~~ vertically-mounted insert positionable between a black key and [[a]] ~~said~~ detection device and ~~said insert~~ changes position in relation to movement of the ~~said~~ key.

Claim 4 (currently amended): The device of claim 2 wherein said flexible insert comprises [[a]] ~~at least one~~ horizontally-mounted insert ~~positioned positionable~~ between the ~~a~~ black key and [[a]] ~~said~~ detection device and ~~said insert~~ changes position in relation to movement of the key.

Claim 5 (currently amended): The device of claim 1 wherein each of said detection devices is locatable behind ~~the a~~ rear vertical surface of a black key of the keyboard, said detection device for detecting ~~said~~ black key movement from a surface of a black key.

Claim 6 (currently amended): A device for use with a piano, organ, or musical keyboard, comprising:

~~a mechanical rectangular backside cover adapted for mounting means on the keyboard for detecting key movement, said cover of a rectangular configuration for insertion~~ disposed between the black keys of a piano the keyboard and its fallboard or for insertion between the black keys of a musical keyboard and its casing.